EDITORIAL COMMENT

LIVELY TIMES AHEAD FOR TONOPAH.

Business is good.

Not a merchant in the city complaining; the banks full of money; fall goods coming in; not a man less working in the mines; mining deals going on; preparations being made for a lively winter. What is the matter with Tonopah?

There is nothing the matter with Tonopah; nothing except that it is the best mining camp in Nevada; the best little business city in the State.

The money in the banks is there to stay for awhile, for we have to be conservative with the rest of the world, but it is a good thing to have it there, for when the money situation in the East loosens up for good and all, we know where we can go and get the necessary funds. When money is plentiful, everybody wants to spend it for investment, wants to reach out beyond his own business; when money is tight, everybody tightens up to be in the fashion.

The cry of hard times is a bugaboo; it does not go in this country. There is just as much money in the United States as there was before the savage onslaught of Wall street on the administration, which locked up the money in the vaults. There is more; the mines of the country are turning out the money every day. The wealth of the United States is beyond computation.

We are the richest country in the whole world.

The money kings, rolling in the wealth of the land, love money too well to burn it, or throw it into the sea. They think too much of it to permit it to remain idle too long; they want it working for them. They are jealous of our mines and securities; but they cannot stop the outpouring of the wealth from the mines. They will get busy before long, for they cannot maintain the false cry of hard times.

The big crops give them the lie; the big production of gold, silver, copper, lead and other minerals give them the lie; the millions of men at work, the general condition of prosperity throughout the entire country makes a poor showing of their game, and their creation of an unnatural condition. Business men throughout the East and West laugh at the suggestion of panics and hard times.

Mr. Throckmorton, of the Colorado Midland railroad, says that the business of his road is increasing in this country all the time. He states that the business with Tonopah and Goldfield was better during the last month than ever before. If the banks do not want to advance money for the development of properties in this country, there is plenty of private capital which is ready to be invested in any mining property which has a good showing. That this is being done every day is shown by the active work that is being done here in this camp, in Goldfield, in the districts tributary to Tonopah, in Manhattan, Hanapah, Liberty, Klondyke, and a dozen other districts.

There is nothing to worry about. Tonopah not only is all right at the present time, but is going to keep on improving and is going to be better than ever, and at that, it is the greatest camp in the State.

UNITY OF ACTION NEEDED.

There is admittedly a good deal of uneasiness about the mining situation in Butte, and this comes from the fact that every one knows that the price of copper has fallen below 18 cents a pound, the figure at which the present basis of wages to miners has been fixed.

There appears to be no doubt in the minds of a great many people whether the underground workers will stand by their contract in this particular.

It seems to this newspaper that to take any other view of the matter than to believe that the miners will make good if called upon to do so is showing a lack of confidence in this organization which every one has learned to respect.

No citizen of Butte desires to see the miners get less than $4 a day, because the underground workers in Butte are the men that keep the town going and have made it the most prosperous community in the United States.

For the Miner's part it believes in the doctrine of allowing the men delving underground to share in the profits of their labor.

This newspaper is not in sympathy with the socialistic doctrine that the wage-earners are the producers of all wealth, but it does hold to the principle that when the employer is faring well his employee should share in his prosperity.

There should be no antagonism between employer and employee, for the welfare of one is the concern of the other.

It is to the interest of the producers of copper to get the price of the red metal higher than it is today, because there is no interest here that does not desire to see the miner get the greatest possible remuneration for his toil.

Consequently it stands all of us in hand to do our utmost to see the price of copper restored to the figure it was a few months ago.

It is simply a question of standing together, for the interest of the town and working in harmony with those interests which have the welfare of the general public most closely at heart.

It is likely that this depression will be short lived, and, however that may be, this community should be a unit in boosting for better times in the future.—Butte Miner.

King Ed's action in walking out of a cafe chantant as a rebuke to the singing of an indecent song, forms an illuminating commentary on the effects of aging years.—Detroit News.

Says the Baltimore Sun: "Ten to one, the corset trust stays." "One to ten, it gets a lacing," adds the Milwaukee Sentinel. Which appears to embrace the whole subject.—Nashville American.

The report that St. Paul's in London is in danger of falling indicates to an open mind that the architect of the Quebec bridge should not be employed to sit up 'o nights and watch it.—St. Louis Times.

It is more apparent every day that the President's party is preparing to take him at his word. The great crowds that greet Taft gather to see Mr. Roosevelt's successor, not his lid-sitter.—Cleveland Leader.

"Uncle" Joe Cannon is now smoking only three cigars a day. Perhaps he fears he is getting "tobacco heart," when in reality that fluttering is due to the talk of nominating him for the presidency.—Washington Post.

TONOPAH OLD-TIMER RETURNS

ALECK THOMPSON TALKS OF CONDITIONS AS THEY EXIST IN ALASKA.

Aleck Thompson, an old-timer of Tonopah, who has been away for three years, returned yesterday from Alaska. He came to Tonopah direct from Dawson, but his time has been principally spent in Fairbanks, which he denominates as one of the greatest of gold countries, but which is now in poor straits.

"Our trouble in Fairbanks," said Mr. Thompson, "began with the big strike last spring. Fairbanks, as you probably know, is a placer country. We work there all the year around and for five months do sluicing. For the rest of the year we sink to bed-rock and then tunnel. Then we have to thaw the ground with steam and take out the bedrock and gravel and pile it on the dump until the time for sluicing arrives. This begins in April.

"It was last April that the trouble began, the men striking for eight hours a day. There were four thousand men went out in a day. On top of this the water went back on us and we could do no sluicing. The strike was settled later, but it is only temporarily fixed up, as the men are going after the eight hours again. Half of them are now working eight hours and the other half ten. I think that the men will win their fight. It has been an awful poor year all through Alaska, the driest ever known. Fairbanks has been a very prosperous camp and it will be again. I think, though, that we will have another hard year, and I have fixed my property and my affairs so that I can remain away two years.

"We are now fighting in Alaska for territorial government, and we will keep fighting for it until we get it. We have a representative of Alaska in Washington, Thomas Cahill, who hails from Fairbanks, but the country is run by officials from Washington and is under martial law. Judge Wickersham, who straightened out affairs in one after the regime of Judge Noyes and MacKenzie, is the judge in the Fairbanks district and we could not ask for a better man.

"The Guggenheims have stopped a great deal of their work in British Yukon; in fact, all but the dredgers. They are constructing a ditch, which will take two years to complete, and they have stopped work on that, which means the laying off of a great number of men. The Guggenheims are investing in the American part of the country, in Forty Mile and Circle City. I will probably spend the next year in Nevada and then go back to Alaska."

HAS PRODUCED THREE MILLIONS

MINE IN JEFFERSON HAS LARGE OUTPUT FOR EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

Charles Kanrohat of Jefferson Canyon came into the city yesterday on his way to Los Angeles, where he is going to spend the winter. Mr. Kanrohat has lived in Jefferson for thirty-five years.

There is a mine in the canyon named for him, and which he himself worked for thirty years, with only a little assistance from the outside. This recently became the property of the Jefferson Gold and Silver Mining Company, of which Mr. Kanrohat is president. The Jefferson mine, which is surrounded by the property of the company, has produced in the last eighteen months, $3,000,000, and the Kanrohat mine itself has shipped $100,000 to the smelters with the most crude methods of mining.

"I am going to take a little rest," said the mine owner, yesterday, "for I am a little bit under the weather, and have been sick. I will spend the winter in Los Angeles and then go back to the work in the spring. There is no doubt that we have a great mine there, for we have many thousands of tons of ore already blocked out, and have high grade as well as milling ore."

Mothers with little children need no longer fear croup, colds or whooping cough. Bees Laxative Cough Syrup tastes good. It works off the cold through the bowels, clears the head. Guaranteed. Sold by Tonopah Drug Co.

The Bonanza is now prepared to do binding, ruling and blank book work of every description in its complete and up to date bindery.

PUSHING WORK NEAR TONOPAH

That the Tonopah district has not lost its speculative value, while being a camp for solid investment, is being demonstrated more and more every day. There are many people who believe that all the ore is not right in the town of Tonopah, and they are backing their belief by the expenditure of their money in the work of development. Particularly is this the case in the north, in the direction of Red Mountain, where is located the Garden City mine.

Within half a mile of this property, or five and a half miles from Tonopah, is the property of the Hercules Mining Company, which comprises five claims and two fractions. Behind the company is the firm of Roake, Wagner and Broons, and they are putting their own money into the ground before asking others to venture theirs.

Two representatives of this paper were out to the mine on Sunday last, and were much impressed with what they saw, although there has not been a great deal of work done as yet. The main shaft, or what is to be the main shaft, is down seven feet and there is exposed some very fine looking ore, the values of which are in gold, silver and copper. Some of the rock which was brought back to the city assayed as high as $132 a ton.

The company proposes to sink a shaft to a depth of one hundred feet, unless they cut the ledge before that depth. They will crosscut. Meantime two other ledges have been encountered, which have not been sufficiently explored to tell very much about them, but one of them panned free gold. The Garden City mine, which is half a mile further out, at a depth of seventy-five feet, got ore which went as high as $150 to $185 a ton.

INCENTIVE TO FIND MURDERER

SEATTLE, Sept. 27.—As a further incentive to the hunt for the murderers of Mrs. Agnes Covington, whose body was recently found in a trunk at South Alki, the commissioners of King county today offered a reward of $500 for the capture and conviction of the murderers. The police are vainly searching for Mrs. Covington, husband of the murdered woman, and his friend, Charles Buieson. It was definitely established today that a trunk similar to the one owned by the Covingtons was seen from Seattle to Eagle Harbor. After it was landed on Parker dock it was removed during the night. All trace of the trunk was lost at that place. The police now believe that Mrs. Covington was murdered in Seattle at the Keswick apartment house and that the body was placed in the trunk and shipped to Eagle Harbor. It is believed that the murderers took the trunk into Puget Sound in a row boat and threw it overboard. The murderers thinking that the weight of stones would take the trunk to the bottom of the sound, made their escape, but the trunk was immediately washed ashore by the waves.

MAKING IMPROVEMENTS.
Wells, Fargo and Company are going to have an up to date office in Tonopah. The present quarters are being remodeled and the office is to have receiving, delivery and forwarding departments. There will be a cashier's desk and there will be more room and more accommodation for the public, and there will be a general branching out of the old company. This will be much appreciated by the public of Tonopah.

Watch our show windows from time to time for exhibitions of the latest creations of jewelry. Blakeslee, the leading jeweler.
